Crown Certification

In today's world, the sustainability of our forests is more important than ever. As a supplier of veneer, we take our responsibility to protect one of the world's most important resources very seriously.

Crown Veneer Corp. has been an FSC (Forest Stewardship Council) certified company since 2002. This year in 2007, we have renewed our certification, insuring that Crown will be a "green" supplier of veneer for many years to come. The FSC has the most rigorous and consistently implemented chain – of – custody program in the world. Being a part of this program allows Crown to buy and sell FSC certified veneer that comes from well – managed forests, thus promoting sustainable forestry.

FSC certification is important to Crown because it benefits the environment, helping to secure our natural resources for the future. Many builders and architects specify FSC certified veneer because having the certification is a prerequisite when satisfying LEED requirements. Crown is proud to bring FSC certified veneer to you.

What's New

Starting in September, Crown has installed a new Kleistronics photography program that allows us to take well-lit, professional, quality pictures of our veneer (see picture on left). These pictures offer a faster, less expensive alternative to sending samples through the mail. Pictures will be available upon request.
